

DUAL THRESHOLD CORRELATOR

ABSTRACT

Correlation is improved by comparing the output of a multiplier and low pass filter to a first threshold and incrementing a counter when the output from the filter exceeds the first threshold; comparing the output of the filter to a second threshold and decrementing the counter when the output is below a second threshold. Correlation is indicated by the count in the counter exceeding a predetermined amount.